Quadral Argentum 490

Speakers from the Argentum range have been Quadral's best sellers for many years now. "You can make a good product even better" is Quadral's claim and they have recently launched a completely updated Argentum 490 speaker. The price of around 900 euros for a pair of speakers makes the Argentum 490 comparatively inexpensive and they come with some enhanced technical details as well as attractive workmanship. The 3-way speaker's 1 metre-tall case consists of a white laminated, rectangular MDF case and Quadral also decided to fit a front-plate with a high-gloss finish to enhance the overall visual appearance. The selected components refer to the technology used in the higher priced models from the same company and you will find extremely powerful and low distortion chassis in the Argentum 90.

The new 3-way Argentum 490 upright speaker from Quadral will delight you all the way down the line. Its clean, undistorted sound is paired with an impressive, dynamic deep bass performance that will simply astound you. The price of a pair of Argentum 490 speakers is fair and they have been really well prepared and are real musical all-rounders.
